February Update

As we celebrate a love-filled February, we remember all the important people in our lives; moms and dads, brothers and sisters, grandmas and grandpas, relatives and friends.

I will be using February theme-based activities to enrich the activities we cover in class. The children will read and listen to stories, discuss and write about friendship, kindness, and people who are important in their lives.

The second and third grades have been working hard on their cursive writing skills. Please make sure they practice and complete their homework assignments.

The first and second graders are enjoying Super Duper and Super Magazines, the non-fiction component of the SuperKids Reading Series.

If you have any questions or comments about what we do in class, please email me.
